

Upkeeper Corp. New Product Consultant Program

This special program is an integral part of Upkeeper Corp.'s R & D. This is offered only to professionals using our products in their current businesses.

Consultants may purchase the product at a discount from normal prices as a part of this consultant program outlined as follows:

The new product consultant agrees to provide direct input to Upkeeper on product performance and/or problems with the product purchased and attachments, tools etc. via fax, E-mail or phone. Please provide detailed explanations with sketches and descriptions.

Upkeeper Corp.'s assessment team will evaluate the input received from the new product consultant and agrees to make reasonable adjustments or modifications to the equipment, i.e. fabricate custom attachments; hose's tools etc. to better fit the consultant's application. These items will be sent to the consultant for final testing and approval at no extra cost in most cases.

In exchange for the discount on Upkeeper products the consultant agrees that any Ideas, design changes and/or modifications resulting from this program will be the sole property of Upkeeper Corporation and its affiliates.

I have read and understand the terms and conditions of this agreement.
